El Amor de México

For more than two decades, the songs of Jesse & Joy have been part of stories of love, farewells, reunions and new beginnings. El Amor de México opens a new chapter in that journey, with Joy leading the live show and without the participation of Jesse Huerta.

The show places Joy’s voice and sensitivity at the heart of an experience that celebrates the band’s repertoire and its bond with audiences. A new way to share the songs that have connected with generations of listeners.

The roots and spirit of Mexican music shape this show. For those who have followed Jesse & Joy from the beginning, it is a chance to reconnect with their songs; for new audiences, an introduction to their musical world.
